

Curriculum Vitae.

Eugenio Tisselli works at the crossroads between software engineering, art, research and community intervention. He is a computer scientist, holds a Master's degree in Digital Arts, and was granted a PhD by the University of Plymouth after defending his dissertation "Reciprocal Technologies: Enabling the Reciprocal Exchange of Voice in Small-Scale Farming Communities through the Transformation of Information and Communications Technologies". As the director of the ojoVoz project, he has developed and applied a sociotechnical methodology for the collaborative creation of community memories in rural and urban environments. His artistic projects can be accessed at motorhueso.net.
